Learn Everything About How To Clean Your Suitcases

August 29, 2022

Have you ever wondered how to keep your suitcases clean and in new condition? This article discusses the best tips and tricks to cleanse your bag, whether an old suitcase, fabric, or hard-sided suitcase. It also describes how to best store your suitcase, so it remains in build and doesn't drop victim to mildew.

Your travel suitcase or bag often comes with specific instructions on how to care for it. But, unfortunately, most of the time, we ignore them and only remember them after we use the bag and need to give it a good clean.

Clean Soft-Sided Baggage

Softsided bags - the material is polyester or ballistic nylon - often can effortlessly be spot swept with just soap and water.

Make sure you test the cleaning process by washing a small spot on a more covered area.

If soap and water are not working, try a spray-on product for stain lessening on clothing. Some plants suggest using a foam-type cleaner to groom car mats or rugs. Upholstery cleaner might do the exact trick.

Clean Hard-Sided Bags

Hardsided American Tourister Kuwait luggage, the ones made of polycarbonate. They, unfortunately, can show scuff marks, scrapes, and mud more evident than soft-sided luggage bag.

To remove light scuff marks, you can utilize an eraser or occasionally a non-abrasive sponger with a bit of toothpaste. Ensure you wash the area later with a dry fabric.

Use a moist cloth and gentle soap and water for dirty hard-sided suitcases. If the dishwashing fluid and water trick don't function, use an all-purpose non-abrasive cleanser and blend it with water, following the guidance on the bottle.

Clean Wheels And Grips

After each use, provide the handles, wheels, and base of your American Tourister Kuwait luggage a fast wipe with some disinfectant wipes.

Try on a small hidden spot before using it on the rest of your bags, especially when it's soft-sided. But even with hard-sided American Tourister Kuwait luggage, some cleansers can generate the stain to fade.
