ABOUT US

Siglo Group is a company that integrates ecology into land management and design, community planning, and geographic assessments. Siglo Group has worked on sites ranging from small city parks and private ranches to large, multi-county regions. The company specializes in conservation planning, cartography, and ecological restoration.

OUR SERVICES

- STRATEGIC CONSERVATION PLANNING
- ECOLOGICAL ARCHITECTS
- ENVIRONMENTAL SITE ASSESSMENT

STRATEGIC CONSERVATION PLANNING

- The Strategic Conservation Planning process involves a comprehensive assessment of the site, including programming, maintenance, and environmental features.
- Siglo Group uses maps, reports, and presentations to communicate their findings and recommendations.
- The company's work has contributed to land being conserved and restored.

ECOLOGICAL ARCHITECTS

- Ecological architecture is a design approach that seeks to reduce negative impacts on the environment and improve the health and well-being of building occupants.
- It involves using sustainable materials, energy-efficient systems, and biophilic design principles to create buildings that are in harmony with their surroundings.

ENVIRONMENTAL SITE ASSESSMENT

- An Environmental Site Assessment (ESA) is a process that evaluates the potential for environmental contamination on a property.
- Siglo Group offers Phase I and Phase II Environmental Site Assessments, which are standardized assessments that follow the guidelines set by the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM).
