Materials Needed for Your Raised Garden Bed

To construct an affordable rectangular raised garden bed for small yards, you will need the following materials:

1. Untreated wood (cedar or pine are great options)
2. Wood screws or nails
3. Landscape fabric (optional)
4. Soil and compost mix
5. Plants or seeds of your choice

Step-by-Step Guide to Building Your Garden Bed

Building your raised garden bed is a straightforward process. Here's how to do it:

1. Choose a suitable location in your yard that receives adequate sunlight.
2. Decide on the dimensions of your rectangular bed. A common size is 4 feet by 8 feet.
3. Cut the wood to the desired lengths and assemble the frame using screws or nails.
4. If desired, line the bottom with landscape fabric to prevent weeds.
5. Fill the bed with a mix of soil and compost, ensuring it is level.
6. Plant your seeds or seedlings according to their spacing requirements.

Maintaining Your Raised Garden Bed

Once your affordable rectangular raised garden bed for small yards is built, maintenance is key to a successful garden. Regularly check for pests, water your plants, and add compost as needed to enrich the soil. Consider using mulch to retain moisture and suppress weeds.
